ANC Pays Tribute to Harry L. Crisp II

Mr. Harry L. Crisp, II, donated a former Pepsi Cola Warehouse to the Mississippi County Community College Foundation (now the Arkansas Northeastern College Foundation) in 1991. This facility provided our college the infrastructure to implement and offer innovative and successful workforce training throughout the region. The Harry L. Crisp Center became a catalyst in the College's ability to become a leader in workforce training throughout the state and across the nation. For well over a decade, the Solutions Group has been the largest and most diversified provider of customized training among all of Arkansas' colleges and universities. We have served over 27,000 trainees, providing over 1.25 million contact hours of training, and it all began at the Harry L. Crisp Center.

Because of the success that began and was nurtured in the Harry L. Crisp Center, the College eventually began utilizing other buildings like the Crisp Center that were retrofitted to meet training needs. The success of the Solutions Group and the growth of the manufacturing base, coupled with the age/functionality of both the Crisp Center (40+ years) and the College's Burdette Center (50+ years), led to the need for a new training center. After four years of planning and fund-raising, the Center for Allied Technologies was constructed in 2018 on the Main Campus and brought together the operations from the Harry L. Crisp Center and other training facilities.

While the new 90,000 square-foot facility is a magnificent structure for world-class training, the College has not forgotten the generous gift of a Pepsi-Cola Distribution Warehouse that led to its fruition. Mr. Crisp's gift to the Foundation will forever be appreciated. It is with that thought that Mr. Crisp was recognized for the role he played in helping bring Arkansas Northeastern College, the county, and the region into the forefront of workforce development. The Harry L. Crisp II display is a lasting way to highlight Mr. Crisp and his generosity. It is a striking showpiece to greet those who enter the Center for Allied Technologies that brings a piece of the College's history to the forefront.

First Day of Fall Classes

Classes began in August and it was wonderful to see people roaming around the campus again! We have many new and returning students, so please make them feel welcome. Have a great academic year!

WOWW (Women Of Worth@Work) Summer Series

The WOWW (Women Of Worth@Work) summer series started on June 4 and continued to meet every Friday. For the last meeting, the group participated in a paint party hosted by Rosla Howard from R & J Blessed Creations.

The purpose of WOWW is to provide women with the tools to live a healthy life while learning in a caring, supportive environment. It provides a safe space for self-discovery, inner renewal, and a growth mindset in managing stress and conflict at work. It is an opportunity for women to encourage one another, build self-esteem, and become leaders at work.

The WOWW group will continue to meet in the fall semester beginning in September.
