

How Will It Work?

The Master Advisor Program is designed for self-motivated individuals with the desire to actively participate in an innovative program. The participants will be compensated upon successful completion of the program.

The Master Advisors will be the driving force behind future decisions on policies and procedures dealing with advising and related projects.

The program will be approximately 32 hours. Twelve hours will be on institution specific topics and will be presented by individuals within the College. Twenty hours will be spent on the psychosocial aspects of advising. Dr. Lee Kern of Student Success Concepts will be leading this portion.

Please fill out the enclosed form if you are interested in participating. Specific dates and times will be discussed once the group is formed. The intention is to have the program completed by the end of the first Summer term. Due to the importance of all subjects attendance at all sessions is mandatory.

It's not the starting that takes a lot of work- it's the sustaining!

Advising Is Teaching

"Advising is not separate from teaching but is another way of teaching - teaching through advising." Dr. Lee Kern
